Enjoy a delicious lunch or snack in the new benugo café. Serving combination sandwiches, fresh soups and salads, as well as fairly traded coffee and mouth-watering handmade cakes made in our benugo bakery, you'll find something to tempt you whatever your age. For those in a rush benugo can also serve your lunch to go or you can eat your own food in our picnic area. Highchairs available.

The Museum's shop sells a wide variety of London souvenirs, gifts and books.

The Museum is fully accessible to pushchairs and wheelchair users. Baby-changing facilities are available.
Please ask us about the services and facilities we provide that may help you during your visit.

Schools visits with accompanying resources are free for pre-booked groups. Some sessions are charged.

Welcome

Step inside our galleries for an unforgettable journey through London's amazing past.

If you have limited time then you may wish to use this map to ensure you don't miss our collection highlights. Hosts are also on hand at the welcome desk and in the galleries should you have any questions or require assistance.

We hope that you enjoy your visit.

Museum of London is undergoing an exciting transformation!

Our lower galleries are now closed until early 2010 for an exciting transformation which will see more space, new objects on display and online access to our fascinating collections. The redevelopment will retell the story of London from 1666 to the present day, and includes a new glass-fronted gallery overlooking London Wall.

Find out more by picking up a leaflet from the welcome desk.

How can I help?

This ambitious transformation will cost £20.5 million and we still need your help to raise the remaining £3 million. We welcome donations in one lump sum or over several years. Gifts eligible for Gift Aid will add substantially to the total the Museum receives.

Find out more from our website or contact the Development team at development@museumoflondon.org.uk.

Museum of London is grateful for the generous support of many donors in developing its new galleries, including:

Clore Duffield Foundation
The Dr Mortimer and Theresa Sackler Foundation
The Weston Family

Events and exhibitions

If you're inspired by London then take your visit a little further. From talks, walks and tours to evening classes, study days and after-hours hijinks there's always something happening so why not get involved? Alternatively, take a closer look at London past and present with our thematic foyer displays.

Find out what's on today at the welcome desk.

FREE regular family events

Every Sunday and school holiday the Museum puts on free family events. The whole family can enjoy a visit together as children use their imaginations and creativity to explore London's history, picking up skills and knowledge that will support learning at school as part of a great day out together.

We also have an exciting programme of activities for babies and children under five and their carers.

To find out what's on for families please ask at the welcome desk or visit www.museumoflondon.org.uk/families

Free activity bags and sheets

Pick up a family activity bag for a hands-on visit. Suitable for 4-11 year olds and free to use from the welcome desk, subject to availability. Free activity sheets for children aged 5 and over, as well as older children, can also be picked up. For younger children we can provide drawing paper and a pencil to take round the Museum.

FREE highlight tours

Join our hosts for a free highlights tour of the galleries, every day at 12pm and 4pm. Tours last between 40 minutes and 1 hour. Subject to change. Please check availability at the welcome desk.
